“I cannot fly,” said the cat.

“That is too bad,” said
Abigail.

“I will go and fly all around,” said Abigail.

“I will then come back and tell you all about it,” she said.

“That would be nice,” said the cat.

So Abigail went and flew all around.

She then came back to the cat.

Abigail told the cat what she had seen.

The cat was happy.

“Thank you,” said the
cat.

“You are welcome,”
said Abigail.

Falling Star

One night Abigail was outside with her dad.

"Help, help!" they heard from up in the sky.

"Look, Dad. A star is falling," said Abigail.

"What should we do?"
said her dad.

"I know what to do,"
said Abigail.

She ran and got a big net.

Abigail took the net and quickly caught the star just before it hit the ground.

"Thanks for saving me," said the star.

"What should we do with this star now?" asked Abigail's dad.

"We need to throw it back up into the sky," said Abigail.

Abigail grabbed the star out of the net and threw it back up into the sky.

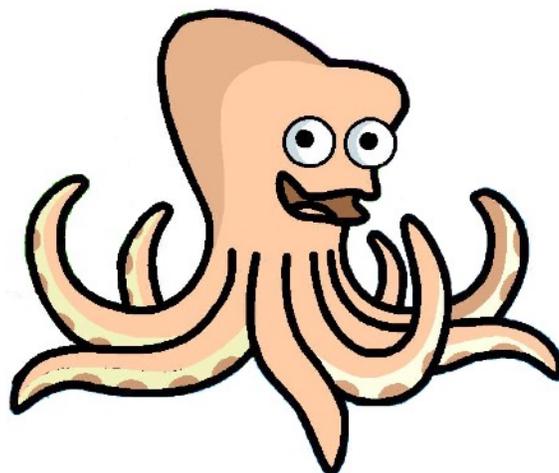

"Thanks so much," said the star from high up in the sky.

Abigail was proud that she had saved a falling star.

Octopus

One day Abigail woke up. She was an octopus.

“Mom, I am an octopus,” said Abigail.

“That is nice. Now figure out what to do with your eight arms,” said her mom.

Abigail thought and thought.

“I think I will play some music,” she said.

She got out a guitar and played it.

She got out a trumpet and played it.

She got out a drum and played it.

She then got out a maraca and played it.

“I bet I can play all of these at once with my eight arms,” said Abigail.

She picked up the maraca. She put the drum next to her. She picked up the trumpet. She then picked up the guitar.

She began to play music with the guitar, the trumpet, the drum, and the maraca.

“Your band sounds great,” said her mother.

“Thanks, Mom. It is fun to be a one octopus band,” said Abigail.

Basketball

By Clark Ness

“Good morning, Teacher,” said Abigail as she walked into her classroom before school.

“Good morning,” said her teacher who was sitting at the teacher’s desk. “How can I help you?”

“I want to be a basketball,” said Abigail.

“Why do you want to be a basketball?” asked her teacher.

“I think it would be fun to fly in the air and then go swish through the basketball net,” replied Abigail.

“Okay you can become a basketball. Please come over here,” said the teacher. Abigail’s teacher reached inside the teacher’s desk and pulled out the lucky buffalo coin. Abigail walked over to the teacher’s desk. Her teacher held the coin above Abigail’s head.

“Basketball, basketball, basketball,” said the teacher.

There was a loud poof, followed by some white smoke, and Abigail was a basketball.

One of Abigail's friends walked into the classroom just at that time.

“Do you want to go out and play basketball?” asked Abigail the basketball. Her friend stopped right in her tracks and looked at the talking basketball.

“How can a basketball talk?” she asked.

“It’s me, Abigail,” said Abigail. “Our teacher used the lucky buffalo coin and turned me into a basketball.”

“Boy, you must have done something really bad for our teacher to turn you into a basketball,” said the friend.

“No, I didn’t. I asked our teacher to turn me into a basketball because I wanted to be a basketball,” said Abigail with a big smile.

“You kids can go outside and play,” said the teacher. “You have about five minutes before school will start. Just remember to bring Abigail back inside.”

Abigail’s friend grabbed Abigail the basketball and ran outside with her.

“Cool basketball,” said the other kids on the playground.

“It is just me, your friend, Abigail,” said the basketball.

“Neat,” said the kids.

The kids all played basketball with Abigail the basketball.

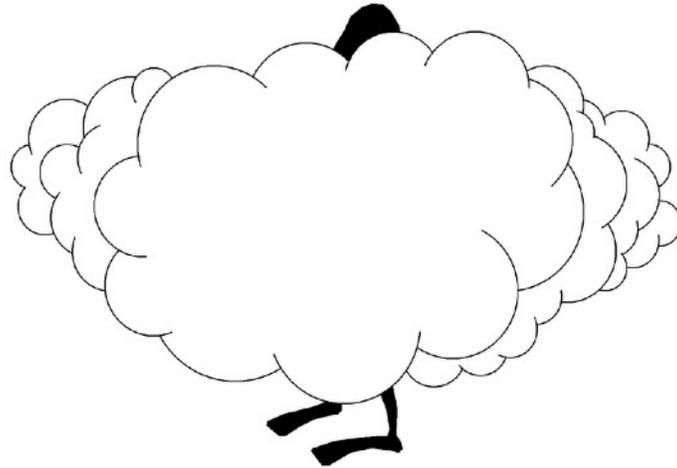

“Does it hurt being a basketball?” asked one of the friends.

“Not a bit,” said Abigail. “Shoot me through the hoop again.”

One of the kids picked up Abigail and took a shot. Swish went Abigail.

“That sure is fun,” said Abigail.
“Thanks.”

The school bell then rang. Abigail’s friend went back into the classroom with Abigail and walked over to their teacher.

The teacher held up the lucky buffalo coin and said, “Abigail, Abigail, Abigail.” There was a poof, then some white smoke, and Abigail was Abigail the girl again.

“Thank you. It was a lot of fun being a basketball. Maybe tomorrow I can be a baseball,” said Abigail.

“I am glad you had fun. We can see about you being a baseball tomorrow. Now, time for school,” said the teacher.
