

Yesterday a Zebra

Yesterday a zebra came to my school.

He came right into my school and sat down.

My teacher couldn't think of what to say.

The unreal thing about this zebra was that he could read.

He told my teacher that he had come to my school to read stories to kids.

It was fun to hear him read stories to us.